Nearly 20 employees assist in plowing following the recent winter storm

POINT PLEASANT — In light of the recent snowfall, the borough shared how public works responds to this kind of weather. “Our road crew, led by DPW Superintendent Bob Forsyth and Roads Supervisor Jude Walker, are always on top of current weather events,” Councilman Joe Furmato, who chairs the council’s public works committee, said. “They always have the roads and equipment prepped and the crews ready to go.” According to Councilman Furmato, the crew begins plowing when there is about 2 to 3 inches of snow on the ground. However, during a faster snowfall, the crew goes out when there is about 3 to 6 inches of snow. “Our crews can plow every municipal street in approximately 6-10 hours and salt them within 3-4 hours,” Councilman Furmato said. “Obviously, larger snowstorms would increase those times, but our crews are up to the challenge and always come through.” In the event of inclement weather, the borough uses 18 plow trucks [including dump trucks, roll-off trucks, pickups and other vehicles], three V-box salt sanders, up to 22 employees that work during these events, employees exclusively assigned to maintaining borough properties, a salt dome holds over 550 tons of salt that is always stocked and two mechanics maintaining the fleet and equipment, according to Borough Administrator Frank Pannucci. “It’s a big operation to manage but we all do it as a team from bottom to top,” Mr. Pannucci said. In addition to plowing employees, the Point Pleasant Police Department monitors the weather while on patrol, updating officials on the intensity of the snowfall. “Our police department is also in constant contact with us monitoring weather events that may intensify sooner than expected so we don’t have any delays in getting out,” Council President Charlene Archer said. “Our

Brick authorities shut down unlicensed COVID test site

Safe Sites LLC was offering testing out of a township home

BRICK TOWNSHIP — A company that has been conducting COVID testing at a residence on Kettle Creek Drive was shut down by Brick authorities and the Ocean County Health Department for not having the appropriate licenses. Safe Sites LLC advertises itself as a “Medical and Health Local Service” according to its Facebook page. Despite it being ordered to be shut down on Dec. 29, the company’s social media does still list COVID testing as a service. In addition, it was not listed as a registered limited liability company until Jan. 7, more than a week after it was ordered to cease operations. Reports suggest that PCR tests were being offered just before New Year’s for a $50 fee, and four people could be tested drive-through style for $65.

The Ocean Star’s attempts to contact Safe Sites LLC and its owner Marylin Morales have been unsuccessful as of press time. However, the company did issue a statement via Facebook post Jan. 9: “As needs spiked with the omicron variant, also demand spiked, and in a lapse of judgment I allowed patients over two days to come to my home on an emergency basis,” the statement read. “This is not permitted in my residential neighborhood and was immediately ceased following a neighbor’s complaint to township code enforcement, and a violation warning was issued.” Reports state that a number of items that were previously on Safe Sites LLC’s Facebook page, including testing sites and scheduling options, have been deleted over the last few days.

Bridge Avenue, Delicious Bagels on Bridge Avenue and Woodchucks BBQ on Route 88. ## Bay Head Environmental Commission rolls out flood mitigation plan

Five-step plan includes bulkhead raising and drain mapping around Twilight Lake

BY JACK SLOCUM
THE OCEAN STAR

BAY HEAD — During the Environmental Commission’s first meeting of 2022, members discussed the status of Bay Head’s flood mitigation plan. The plan targets Twilight Lake, which has become a flooding and pollution issue since SuperStorm Sandy in 2012. The first step of the flood mitigation plan is to continue collecting and analyzing flood data. This entails updating storm drain mapping and issuing flood event reports. On Dec. 6 of last year, the council approved a contract to revamp the drain drawings, and plot where old and new storm grates were and would be located. The second step of the plan is to “Incorporate public comments on the master plan and gain council adoption.” This action was completed on Dec. 15 after the plan was approved by the council and sent to the New Jersey Department of Environmental Protection.

The third step is the study of Twilight Lake, which is updated every month with the help of aquatic ecologist Jack Szczepanski of Princeton Hydro. Mr. Szczepanski shared during the meeting that sampling sites, which are used to analyze pollutants and flood behavior, should be placed near Bay Head’s NJ Transit railroad. “Heavy metals... might end up being something that’s coming off on the epidemic and prevent the epidemic from growing. “We are so grateful for the support from the Ocean County Prosecutor’s Office and these businesses,” Angelo Valente Executive Director of PDFNJ said in a press release. “Business owners and customers have been extremely receptive and grateful to have this vital information, some even sharing personal stories of addiction and how having this information has helped them and their family members.” The businesses involved with the initiative will be distributing door hangers provided by the Ocean County Prosecutor’s Office, which will contain vital information regarding opioid abuse, ways to prevent it and more helpful resources. The PDFNJ says that the door hangers will be distributed with shopping bags, pizza boxes, menus and dry-cleaning hangers in efforts to share information with their customers.

Opioioid abuse effort joins prosecutor and business leader

OPIOID

Michael Colwell, an agent for the Ocean County Prosecutor’s Office, and former Point Pleasant police officer, was put in charge of community outreach regarding the initiative. It was Mr. Colwell who distributed the door hangers to the participating businesses. “Whoever gets it [door hanger] can kind of look at it, and if that person is somebody who suffers from that [substance abuse] issue, or have a loved one that suffers from that issue, they can call... or connect to the resource and start to get help,” Mr. Colwell told The Ocean Star. “Because many people don’t want attention drawn, they don’t want a conversation about it. They want help, but they want it to be anonymous. This is what it [the initiative] is trying to do. “If 10,000 of those things are handed out, and one person takes one and gets better... then it’s all worth it,” Mr. Colwell added.

NJ OPIATE EPIDEMIC According to the PDFNJ, more than 3,000 New Jersey citizens died from overdoses in New Jersey in 2019, and more than 3,000 overdose deaths in 2020. According to the New Jersey Attorney General’s Office, more than 2,600 people overdosed and died between January and October of 2021, with over 12,204 naloxone doses administered to reverse opioid overdoses statewide. In addition, there were about 2,947,778 active opioid prescriptions in New Jersey last year. In Ocean County alone, the PDFNJ says that between January and October of 2021, 750 naloxone doses were administered and over 200 suspected opioid-related deaths took place. “Over the last three years, my administration, alongside our partners in the Legislature and many passionate advocates, has worked to meaningfully combat the opioid crisis that has held our state in its grip for far too long,” Governor Murphy said in a 2021 press conference. “We have worked tirelessly to erase the stigma associated with opioid use disorder and people who use drugs, close gaps in treatment, expand access and use of life-saving medicines like naloxone and support the work of syringe exchange programs and harm reduction centers.” PDFNJ PROGRAMS The PDFNJ, created in 1992, is a substance abuse prevention alliance to localize, strengthen and deepen initiatives, drug-free assistance and parent education conferences throughout the state, according to their website. The alliance works with citizens, schools and community officials in an effort to inform and prevent drug abuse throughout the state. For example, the not-for-profit group offers a program called the ‘15-Minute Child Break’ which is a webinar course that teaches parents and educators effective ways to communicate with children about drug abuse, mental health and other important topics.

The group has also created the ‘Drugs Don’t Work in NJ’ program, which spreads information on how employers and employees can prevent drug abuse in the workplace, and how to identify abuse in the workplace. In 2009, the PDFNJ expanded nationwide with the American Medicine Chest Challenge [AMCC]. The AMCC was “created to help the nation’s families see their medicine cabinets as an access point for potential misuse of over-the-counter and prescription opioids,” according to their website. The program allows families to dispose of unwanted prescription drugs or bottles in a safe manner. More information on drug abuse in NJ and the PDFNJ can be found at drugfreenj.org.

WHAT’S UP WITH THAT?

Bay Head announces new mayor’s hours

THE OCEAN STAR

When will the Bay Head mayor’s hours begin? In efforts to boost communication and meet the needs of the public, the borough announced that newly available sessions known as “mayor’s hours” with Mayor Bill Curtis, Borough Administrator Frank Pannucci Jr. and a councilmember, are slated to begin in February. Members of the public are encouraged to meet with members of the council one-on-one to have an open conversation on any topic they choose. The first scheduled mayor’s hours will be meetings,” said Mayor Curtis. “Even though I am personally available most days at Borough Hall, I’m cognizant of the fact that whether it’s due to jobs or other personal issues there are a number of residents who aren’t available during normal business hours. I also am aware that some people aren’t comfortable talking in front of others and don’t want to come to a council meeting because public speaking may make them nervous.” “I’ve seen this type of programming be successful in other communities and I’m going to try it here in Bay Head. There will be no appointments. A citizen can just show up and we can begin some meaningful discussions with them. It will be myself, our borough administrator and a council member.” “I’m anticipating getting issues solved right then and there if possible. If it’s a more in-depth matter, I have the borough administrator who will be sitting right there next to me and can contact appropriate department heads or professionals immediately with residents’ contact information to follow up with them to address their issue.” Mr. Pannucci added, “Mayor Curtis wants these sessions to be very personal in style with some meaningful back and forth aimed at solving problems, listening to suggestions and educating residents and vice versa on a myriad of topics.” Mr. Pannucci said that in addition to mayor’s hours, several plans for 2022 are intended to focus on the relationship between the council and community. The council will be updating the website, developing a monthly newsletter and is looking to acquire equipment to broadcast its monthly meetings. “I think 2022 is going to be a good year for Bay Head with the work Mayor Curtis and the council are doing,” he said.

of public works when they notice the roads starting to become dangerous if a storm starts out more intense than originally expected... It really is an all-around team effort.”

As for the most recent snowfall last week, over 50 tons of salt were used on the roads, and 19 employees assisted in plowing, along with one loader, according to Mayor Sabosik.

“Our trucks this past snow event began salting roads around 1:30 a.m., and all-call was placed around 3 a.m. to organize manpower for plowing, and plowing itself began roughly at 3:30 a.m. and was completed townwide just before 2 p.m.,” the mayor said. “Unlike a number of other communities throughout the state that have to contract out plows, our streets are cleared by our own department of public works employees and our own borough vehicles. This gives us the added benefit of their intimate knowledge of our roadways and a personal touch as borough employees and residents themselves.”

the railyard. That isn’t necessarily ideal,” Mr. Szczepanski said. “I’m the kind of person, I’ve got some academic in me, so more data is better.”

In addition to adding more sample sites around the lake, the commission plans to install new bulkheads at the end of Forsyth Street, on Cranberry/West Lake Avenues and on the south end of West Lake Street. The bulkhead at the end of Mount Street also would be repaired, according to the plan.

Before continuing with the bulkhead projects, however, the commission intends to meet with a bulkhead expert sooner than later.

The fourth step involves the committee seeking action from Ocean County to mitigate the flooding on Bridge Avenue. A letter was sent to the county on Dec. 28, and the commission intended to call the county engineer on Jan. 14 to follow up on the request and possibly schedule a meeting.

The council’s final step in the plan is to propose and possibly implement solutions regarding Twilight Lake’s flooding. Possible solutions the committee came up with include raising the shoreline three feet and/or pumping Twilight Lake into the ocean. A FEMA grant application was submitted in December in order to help fund the potential projects.

The next Environmental Committee meeting is scheduled to take place on Feb. 10.

Bay Head principal discusses plans for MLK day

Students get half-day; faculty to attend mental health seminar

BY ANTHONY J. GARCIA
THE OCEAN STAR

BAY HEAD — On Martin Luther King Jr. Day Monday, students at Bay Head Elementary will have an opportunity to take part in activities organized by social studies teacher Keith Murphy.

According to Principal Frank Camardo, these Jan. 17 activities will use literacy and common core standards to educate students on the legacy of the Rev. King through his teaching of tolerance and acceptance.

Mr. Camardo said students will be reviewing the "I have a dream" speech to dissect what lessons The Rev. King intended to get across, and how that can be applied to modern times.

Students will also be able to take part in the design of a three dimensional poster of the Rev. King.

"Each child will get a piece of a poster and they'll color and decorate it, and once everybody's piece is finalized, we will put them together and we'll have a big picture of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. with the word 'dream' on it," he said.

Mr. Murphy stated to The Ocean Star that Martin Luther King's struggle, passion and wisdom gives people hope regardless of ethnicity.

"Very few people have had that impact on society. So it is important to study and celebrate the people who had such a positive role in American history, and changed the lives of millions of people across the world, not only this country. The celebration of MLK is a salute to a great man, husband, father, and peaceful revolutionary," he stated.

In addition, Friday, Jan. 14, will be a half day for students, and according to Mr. Camardo the faculty will have an opportunity to attend a seminar from a mental health counselor.

"That individual will be speaking with the staff on working with them self-care tips for students and staff during the pandemic."

He mentioned that the level of stress and anxiety of students and staff is amongst the top priorities during the school year, especially given the current situation with the pandemic.

The seminar will consist of informing teachers about what signs to look for in a student's behavior and how to handle a situation where their anxieties are heightened.

"As an administrative team this is something that is really important to us given the circumstances dealing with COVID and teachers having kids being sick, and dealing with absences and the stress of dealing with everything, and dealing with kids that are stressed," he told The Ocean Star.

"I think it's really important that we address those issues and give a strategy for dealing with what they [teachers] do every day. It's not just going in and teaching, it's now you know, another level of: how do I deal with this kid that is dealing with anxiety or this kid has to be virtual for the next week, and how are they dealing with that. It's a lot of teachers and students. Our team really wants to have focus to help them on an everyday basis."

Afterward and for the rest of the school day, teachers will meet with other educators in their grade level department to discuss curriculum and student enrichment. He said there will be time for teachers to design cross-curricular activities, which combines subjects to enhance or reinforce teaching points.

"We are also looking at electives for the middle school. Right now, we don't currently have any besides in special areas. We are thinking of having a creative writing elective, or something in math, so teachers will be working on that," he said.

Public Works Department recaps snow removal

BY ANTHONY J. GARCIA
THE OCEAN STAR

BAY HEAD — The Bay Head Public Works Department salted the roads around 1 a.m. last Friday in preparation for the second snow storm forecasted that week. That morning, five snow plows removed four to six inches of snow from the roadways.

"We came in about right when it started," said Larry Gilman of the Public Works Department. "Everything went great. It was good and we didn't break anything."

He told The Ocean Star in order to make the job of snow removal easier for members of the department, residents should keep their vehicles off the streets.

"That's the biggest hindrance, all the towns have ordinances for them to keep their car parked in their driveways," he said.

Article II of Chapter 222 of the borough code states that whenever snowfall has fallen and accumulated in a fashion that covers the street or highway, that no vehicle shall be parked on the area where snow covers to allow for plowing.

"These parking prohibitions shall remain in effect after the snow has ceased until the streets have been plowed sufficiently and to the extent that parking will not interfere with the normal flow of traffic," the ordinance states.

GUEST STAR

Bay Head resident shares story on involvement with mindfulness

BY ANTHONY J. GARCIA
THE OCEAN STAR

BAY HEAD — Sally Younghans, a Bay Head resident is the CEO of Mindful Education Life Tools [M.E.L.T].

Can you explain the mission of M.E.L.T?

It is my sincere wish that we all live healthy and happy lives. Our stressors are at an all-time high and many people are struggling as a result. Thanks to science, we now know that the ancient practices of meditation and mindfulness are proven to be beneficial not only to our mental health but our physical health as well. M.E.L.T. 's mission is to help cultivate and create a culture of mindfulness, one person, one organization, one community at a time, so we can all thrive, not just survive. All of our programs are designed to be accessible, relatable and relevant to any one individual or group interested in experiencing this powerful practice.

When did you become interested in these practices? Where has your journey taken you?

My mother was a high school teacher back in the 70s and learned transcendental meditation and started taking yoga classes when I was a teen. I remember a little red book that she kept reading and re-reading until the cover fell off. It was called The Relaxation Response by Dr. Henry Benson [still popular today] and she started teaching his bio-feedback technique in her history and psychology classes. Not sure how she pulled that off but she did! She said her students loved it. My friends thought she was cool and I thought she was weird. My dad on the other hand worked in the liquor industry as a Brand Manager for Johnnie Walker Red Scotch Whisky. I thought he was leading a glamorous life working in New York City full of fancy lunches, dinners and world travel [Think Netflix Mad Men-like lifestyle]. I followed in my dad's footsteps after college and worked for a scotch company. Lots of booze, lots of steaks and baked potatoes, a pack and a half of cigarettes a day and a ton of fun traveling around the world. Got married in my mid-thirties and had a beautiful baby girl on Jan.11, 22 years ago. What a gift. I was overwhelmed with a love so deep it's hard to describe. Yet while I was feeling this overwhelming sense of joy, love and gratitude, I was also feeling completely unprepared, lonely and depressed as I strolled this adorable little bundle of love around our New Jersey suburban neighborhood streets. Having only identified myself with my work I felt lost and didn't really know who I was. I felt disconnected as if something were missing but I couldn't put my finger on it. The local YMCA was offering yoga classes and that was the beginning of my journey into self-discovery and these ancient teachings. I began studying and training in yoga, pranayama, ayurveda, meditation, mindfulness, trauma sensitive mindfulness and most recently, evidence-based practices combining mindfulness and positive psychology. I began feeling happier and healthier and found what was missing for me; a reconnection to who I really am. I continue to practice daily and needless to say, I think my mom is pretty cool.

MARK R. SULLIVAN THE OCEAN STAR

Sally Younghans, a resident of Bay Head shares how she became interested in mindfulness and meditation.

What are the benefits of mindfulness versus meditation?

Meditation is the formal practice that helps us become more mindful. And when we are mindful we move through life with greater ease and

joy. How do we do that? We practice. We practice formal meditation techniques and informal mindfulness techniques to help build our mindfulness muscle and create new neural pathways in our brains – much like going to the gym and doing bicep curls to help build our bicep muscle. The benefits of mindfulness are many including relieving anxiety, depression and ADHD, but I think the greatest benefit that many students report is this overall sense of well-being internally regardless of what is happening externally.

What would you recommend meditation and mindfulness for?

To improve and enhance your day-to-day experiences and your overall health. You might just find yourself moving through life with a little more ease and a little more joy regardless of the inevitable stressors and conditions.

Accreditation process for police underway

THE OCEAN STAR

The Mantoloking Police Department is in the process of undergoing an accreditation process that began last year. Accreditation seeks to help improve the performance of law enforcement via self-analysis, by looking at a department's procedures and standards and offering methods of improvement. The process should be completed in 2022. "This is a self-initiated voluntary effort and is based on standards which are reflective of best practices in law enforcement," said Mayor Lance White about the accreditation process in his message to Mantoloking residents. The New Jersey State Association of Chiefs of Police [NJSACOP] is the agency which conducts this process. "Our department will be, at the end of the day, a better, more knowledgeable police force for having undergone this process," said Mayor White.

New SUVs to replace aging police fleet

THE OCEAN STAR

Mayor Lance White, in his message to the borough on Jan. 7, noted that Mantoloking will be slowly phasing out its aging fleet of police vehicles, starting with the addition of a new SUV this year. The current lineup of cars includes seven trucks and one car.

Three of these vehicles have mileages over 100,000. "These trucks are expensive no doubt, but for a variety of very sound reasons police departments are no longer purchasing cars. Here in Mantoloking, our flooding prohibits the use of cars which are much lower to the ground than the trucks," said Mayor White.

LAVALLETTE — The Lavallette Board of Education honored the students and the staff member of the month of November at a recent meeting.

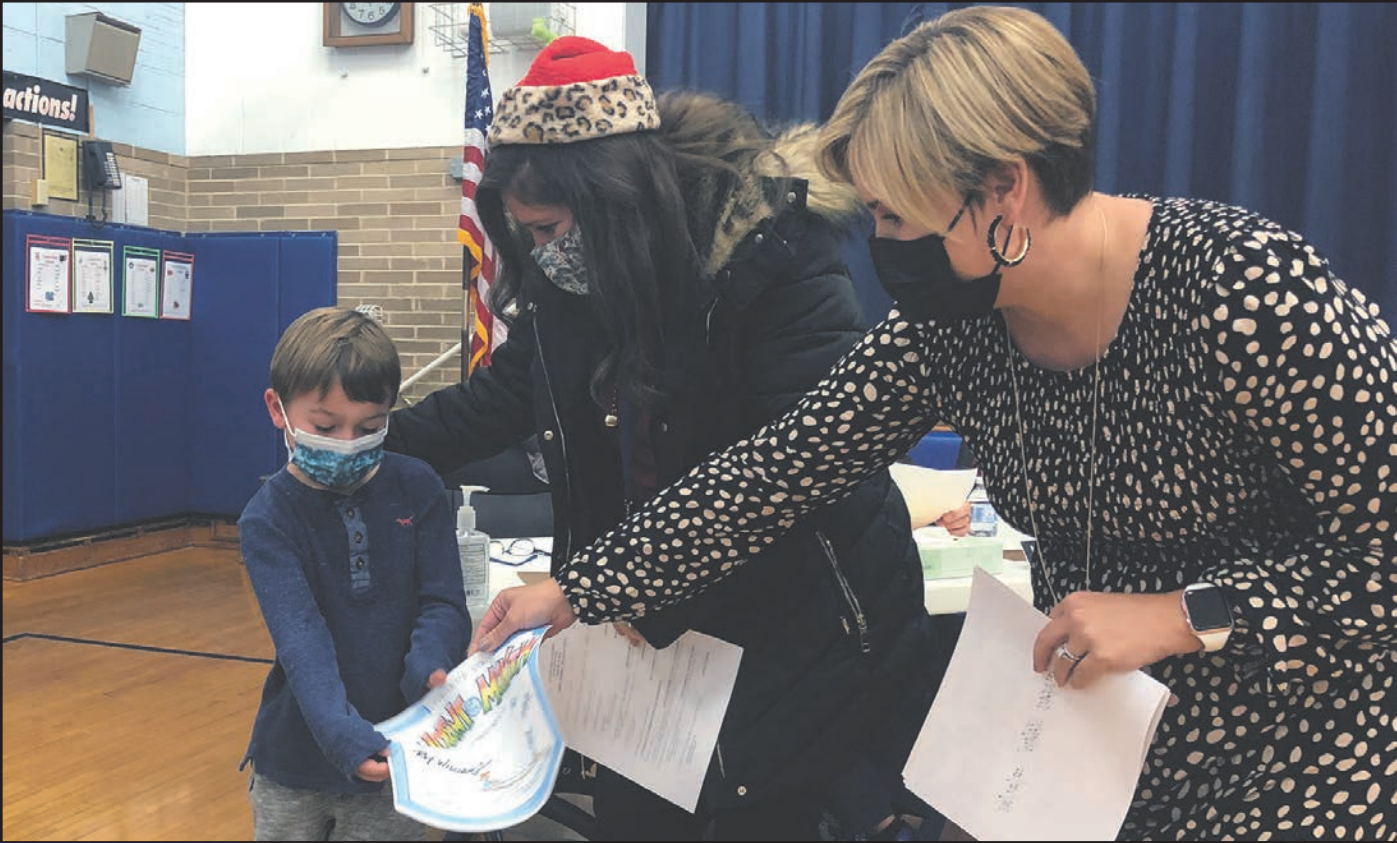

The students of the month of November are: kindergarten Landon DeFilippis, first-grader Roy Williams, second-grader Chase Moretti, third-grader Gianna; fourth-grader Lauren Gonzalez, fifth-grader Rex Anderson, sixth-graders Kaylee Chiaravalle and Abigail Shaw, seventh-grader Melina and eighth-graders Michael Marzarella and Sage Sakowitz.

I could honestly say that Lauren brings a smile to my face everyday and I know the same is true for those around her. I'm confident Lauren will do great things here in Lavallette and wherever her future takes her."

Lee Oliver, sixth grade homeroom teacher and math teacher said, "Ms. Abigail Shaw, she has the highest grade in math right now, you are at the top of the class. She is always extremely polite. You come up to me after a lesson and say, 'Mr. O! I loved that lesson, I really want to know more about that,' so your curiosity and imagination always push the envelope. You do such a great job and you continue to impress me, keep up the amazing work."

Following the students of the month presentation, the Lavallette Board of Education honored the teacher of the month.

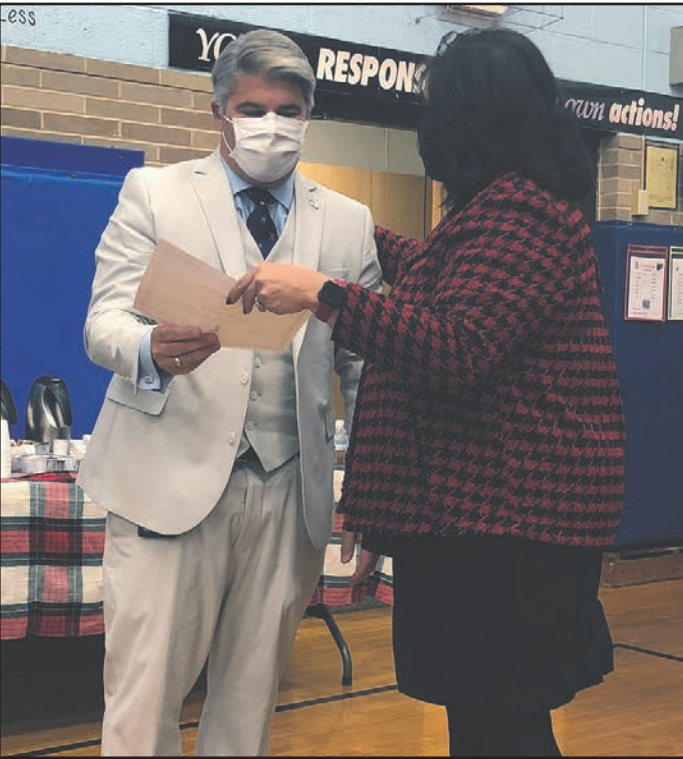

Superintendent Lisa Gleason said, "The staff member that was selected as staff member of the month came as no surprise to me when I saw who the staff selected. In the short time that I've been here, this staff member has been a complete team player, ready to pitch in at any time and is all in for the students of Lavallette it shows in so many ways."

The teacher of the month of November is Marty Fallivene, who serves as Lavallette Elementary School's basic skills teacher.

Ms. Gleason would explain that the current role that Mr. Fallivene sees him work as an intervention teacher.

"An intervention teacher works with students who are struggling, whether a little bit or a lot, to master the grade level skills that they need. An intervention teacher has the ability to work with a small group of students in a classroom or sometimes pulling out of a classroom to really build that relationship, sometimes out of a larger class setting where they can really identify those where those voids may be and we've seen great success with the students he's been working with and it is with great pleasure that we award staff member

Board of Education swears in reelected members for 2022

retain president's chair

BY JACK SLOCUM
THE OCEAN STAR

BRICK TOWNSHIP — The Brick Board of Education held its annual Reorganization Meeting on Jan. 6, with reelected members sworn in for their new terms.

Stephanie Wohlrab, Victoria Pakala and Nicole Siebert were reelected to the three available seats on the Brick school board back in November, and were sworn in for another three years on the board.

Stephanie Wohlrab won her seat back in November with 10,804 votes on the 'Believe in Brick' platform, which she shared with the other two victorious incumbents. Ms. Wohlrab was also nominated as the Board President, a position she's held since 2018. She previously served as vice president of the school board in 2016 and was appointed to the New Jersey School Boards Association board of directors and Ocean County School Board association executive committee in 2021.

Also sworn in was Victoria Pakala, who tallied up the most votes in November's election with 11,460. She has served on the board since 2015 and is certified to teach social studies, elementary education and teach the handicapped. She has lived in Brick since 2012 and is a member of the Brick Green Team.

Finally sworn in was Nicole Siebert, who received 9,664 votes in November's election. Ms. Siebert has served on the board since 2018, has lived in the township since 2007 and is an advocate for special needs children.

Also in the November race was Walter F. Campbell, who lost with 8,309 votes and Frances DiBenedictis who lost with 6,239 votes. In addition, there were 229 write-in votes.

After assuming the chair of Board President once again, Ms. Wohlrab sought nominations for the board's vice president. Two nominations were made by the board, Melita Gagliardi and Missy Parker. Ms. Gagliardi ended up being appointed as the board's vice president and assumed the chair.

"Congratulations to our newly elected and incumbent board members," said Superintendent Tom Farrell. "I wouldn't want to be in any other district... here's to 2022, it's got to be better."

OTHER BUSINESS

The board resolved that certain members and officials of the board have the authority to sign checks relating to the Brick Board of Education. According to the Jan. 6 agenda the "President, Board Secretary and Treasurer of School Monies are empowered to sign all checks, drafts, notes, acceptances, or other evidences of indebtedness of the Brick Township Board of Education, effective from this date until the 2023 Reorganization Meeting."

The board also appointed James W. Edwards, Jr., CPA as the District Public Agency and William Kleissler as the Appointing Authority.

In addition, the board passed a suggestion from the Superintendent to approve The Brick Township Public Schools application to the New Jersey State Interscholastic Athletic Association [NJSIAA] to create a gymnastics' co-op between Brick Township Memorial High School and Brick Township High School. The co-op will be on a two year cycle as required by NJSIAA for the school years of 2022-2023 and 2023-2024, according to the agenda.

The next Board of Education meeting will take place on Jan. 24 at 7 p.m.

Resident's new book has children asking the right questions

'Do You Know How Important You Are?' given to Monmouth and Ocean county schools

BY JACK SLOCUM
THE OCEAN STAR

BRICK TOWNSHIP — Do you know how important you are? It might be a question we don't ask ourselves enough nowadays. However, thanks to people like Eileen and Colleen Culley, the next generation will know just how important they really are.

"Do You Know How Important You Are?" is a children's book written by Eileen Culley and her daughter Colleen. The story follows a boy going throughout his day, all the while being reminded how important he and his presence is in the world.

Ms. Culley, a board member for the non-profit CulleyStrong Foundation, says the boy in the story was inspired by her late son Sean, who died by suicide at 19 in January of 2019.

"My daughter and I wrote the book together, to honor my son Sean," Ms. Culley told The Ocean Star. "It's part of our way to honor Sean as well as to spread the word on how important mental health is, and how important it is that everybody knows that they are unique, that they are here on this earth for a reason and that everybody is important."

Ms. Culley says that the book is not only helpful to children, but also therapists, educators and parents.

"Everybody, even adults, need to know that we are important," Ms. Culley said. "Everybody has special gifts, this world can't function without everybody."

Net proceeds for the book are going towards the CulleyStrong Foundation, which aims to help others through mental health awareness and suicide prevention, according to CulleyStrong board member Jim Clabby.

Brick resident John Kitrick, the owner of Harpoon Willy's and Half Moon Point, recently offered to purchase and donate several copies of the book to every grammar school in Monmouth and Ocean counties, according to Mr. Clabby.

"He [Kitrick] is an amazing supporter of the CulleyStrong Foundation, he just blows me away with his countless kind deeds," Ms. Culley told The Ocean Star. "His unselfish behavior, it's just so incredible,

In March, the CulleyStrong Foundation will be giving one of these service dogs to a military veteran who lives with post traumatic stress disorder. Ms. Culley says helping veterans means a lot to her, because Sean wanted to be an engineer that developed prosthetic limbs for critically injured veterans.

"To be able to provide an American veteran with this dog who will change his life, and at the same time do something that Sean would've loved to do, it's an incredible and proud moment for all of us," Ms. Culley said.

The program also is looking into providing a therapy dog for a much younger person who is struggling with their mental health.

"We're [CulleyStrong] doing a lot of great things," Ms. Culley said. "And we'll be doing a lot of wonderful things throughout the next several years."

BOB SABOSIK, Mayor of Point Pleasant

Mayor’s hours return after pandemic pause

Mayor Sabosik to hold in-person meetings with residents again

BY JACK SLOCUM
THE OCEAN STAR

POINT PLEASANT — Mayor Bob Sabosik announced on Wednesday that his regular mayor’s hours will return after a long hiatus, which was caused by COVID precautions. For January, the mayor’s hours will take place on Jan. 17 from 6 to 7 p.m. in the courtroom of Borough Hall, located at 2233 Bridge Ave.

The Mayor’s hours entail residents coming directly to the mayor, a council person and the borough administrator, where they are able to ask questions and make comments without being in the crowded room that regular council meetings tend to have.

“I started doing these in my first term and unfortunately due to COVID, we stopped the in-person one-on-one meetings, but I’m happy to say we’re starting them back up.

“What I found when I became mayor was that there were a lot of residents who are not available to schedule a meeting during the day because they work or have other commitments. Then I also found out that a lot of people don’t want to come to a council meeting because they don’t want to have to talk in front of a large crowd of people,” Mayor Sabosik said.

“So, I then started setting an evening aside each month where residents can come in and talk one-on-one and have some truly meaningful conversations about whatever issues or suggestions might be on their mind.”

Council members believe that the mayor’s hours benefit the public with a more intimate setting, where residents can address the officials personally, and be responded to directly.

“Many residents have told me how nice it is to just come in a very informal setting and just talk. Too many times things can get lost in a big setting, but these more intimate meetings are a real benefit to the residents,” Council President Charlene Archer said. “I’ve sat in on a number of these meetings and truthfully, I also gain a lot of knowledge from them as well. This is a very personal style meeting with attention to the resident in mind.”

“We are already accessible and available throughout the day, but it’s important to go the extra mile and set time aside in the evenings to meet with residents,” Councilman Joe Furmato added. “The best thing you can do is talk one-on-one sometimes in a relaxed setting like this so the important things don’t get lost in emails, phone calls or bigger settings.”

The mayor’s hours allow residents who can’t schedule day meetings, due to work or other matters, to come address the borough with any concerns, questions or comments they might have regarding the Borough.

Point Beach school district adopts new CDC guidelines

Mayor Kanitra is out of quarantine and back at work

BY ALISSA DELEO
THE OCEAN STAR

POINT PLEASANT BEACH — The Point Pleasant Beach school district has adopted new measures in accordance with the Jan. 10 recommendations from the CDC and New Jersey Department of Health, which were also endorsed by the New Jersey Department of Education.

The measures address the length of recommended quarantine, which the district will follow, stated Superintendent William Smith.

Gov. Phil Murphy on Tuesday declared a new public-health emergency to battle the pandemic's latest omicron wave, an action that means the statewide mask mandate in schools will remain in effect. However, the governor said the new declaration does not mandate any new lockdowns, vaccine passports, business restrictions or gathering limits. The governor's declaration came one day after the state legislature declined to vote on a resolution to extend a series of pandemic-related orders and actions.

"Governor Murphy also issued Executive Order 280, which created a new Public Health Emergency. He also issued E.O. 281, which extended the provisions of E.O.s 251 and 253. As a consequence, our active virus mitigation procedures remain in place," said Mr. Smith on Wednesday.

Although the district does not currently keep a running count of its students who have tested positive for COVID-19, Mr. Smith has noted that since the last two weeks of December dozens of students and staff members have been impacted by the virus and have been forced to self-isolate or quarantine.

"To this date, we have not had to close either school building as a result, and are encouraged by slightly "better" COVID circumstances this week," he said.

As of Jan. 12, Point Pleasant Beach has cumulatively had 23 deaths and 869 cases during the pandemic, according to the latest update from the Ocean County Health Department. Countywide, 1,051 new cases were reported on Wednesday.

Mayor Paul Kanitra was impacted first-hand by COVID-19 when he tested positive for the virus in late December.

Discussing his experience having the virus and recovering, the mayor stated, "The speed with which omicron came through New Jersey was pretty staggering. But luckily the symptoms for myself, and like they are for most people, were pretty mild."

The mayor is now out of quarantine and has returned to work.

Mayor Kanitra stated that he is hoping that a silver lining of the uptick in the pandemic is increased immunity for all of the people who also recently recovered from the virus.

While the mayor was in quarantine, the borough's annual reorganization meeting took place on Jan. 2, inside the auditorium of the G. Harold Antrim Elementary School.

Although the mayor was absent from the borough's reorganization, he prepared a speech that was read during the meeting by Council President Douglas Vitale.

Beach man pleads guilty to threats against two Boro schools

BY ALISSA DELEO
THE OCEAN STAR

TOMS RIVER — A Point Pleasant Beach man has pleaded guilty to making terroristic threats against Point Pleasant Borough High School and Nellie F. Bennett Elementary School in Point Pleasant Borough last March, Ocean County Prosecutor Bradley

D. Billhimer announced Jan 7.
Shaun Giberson, 40, appeared before state Superior Court Judge Michael T. Collins and pleaded guilty to terroristic threats in connection with threats made in Point Pleasant Borough on March 17, 2021, Mr. Billheimer said.
On March 18, 2021, the Point Pleasant Borough Police Department received a report that an anonymous caller had left threatening voicemail messages at both Point Pleasant Borough High School and at Nellie Bennett

SHAUN GIBERSON

Elementary School, the prosecutor said.
The messages “made reference to Columbine and the murder of students,” Point Pleasant police said at the time.
An investigation by the Point Pleasant Borough Police Department determined that Mr. Giberson, who had been staying at a local motel, had made the calls, and he was arrested on March 19, 2021, the prosecutor said. He has since been held in the Ocean County Jail in Toms River.

Mr. Giberson also pleaded guilty to arson in connection with an unrelated incident in Manchester Township on Aug. 18, 2020. He was charged by Manchester police with setting a backpack on fire in a group home while a resident of a facility. He was arrested and released on a summons.
According to the prosecutor’s office, Mr. Giberson will be sentenced on Feb. 25. Prosecutors plan to seek a five-year sentence on each offense, to run concurrently.

Schools closed, streets plowed after recent snowfall

Garbage pickup postponed due to COVID

BY ALISSA DELEO
THE OCEAN STAR

POINT PLEASANT BEACH — Three to seven inches of snow fell in Point Pleasant Beach during the early morning hours of Jan. 7, prompting Schools Superintendent William Smith to close the borough’s two public schools due to inclement weather and hazardous travel conditions.
The borough Department of Public Works responded to the snowfall, but due to multiple employees having to quarantine due to testing positive for COVID-19, trash pickup, which also fell on Friday, was postponed to the next routine pickup date. Residents were notified of this change by an alert system call and an update was posted on the borough’s social media accounts.
Mayor Paul Kanitra reported that “We were initially worried because, like everybody else, there was a tremendous amount of workers out with COVID,” said the mayor. The mayor made the decision to suspend trash pickup on Friday in order to get both done. “They went out and they tackled it and they came through with flying colors, so it all worked out in the end,” stated the mayor, thanking the public works department for their timely and efficient response to the accumulation of snowfall in the borough.

The mayor is hopeful that during future snowstorms suspending trash pickup will no longer be an issue.
“I think for future snowstorms, because the COVID wave has passed, it won’t be an issue in terms of even needing to suspend the trash pickup. We’ll be able to have enough staff to manage the trash pickup and the plowing in the same day,” he said.
Crews from the public works department routinely salt the borough’s main thoroughfares the evening before a forecasted snowfall.
“That’s a pretty common practice across our area because the salt tends to degrade the asphalt pretty quickly. So unless they feel it is going to be the type of snowfall where they won’t be able to quickly plow, they don’t always use it on all streets,” said the mayor.

OCEAN COUNTY ENJOYS A SNOW DAY

Residents of Ocean County woke up to a wintry scene last Friday, Jan. 7, after 3-6 inches of snow fell overnight. Snow covered the Jenkinson's Boardwalk in Point Pleasant Beach as employees began shoveling in the morning to clear a pathway for pedestrians. In Point Pleasant Borough, children and adults alike enjoyed winter activities including sledding and snowboarding down a snow covered hill located at the corner of Herbertsville Road and Route 88. In Brick Township, sunlight reflected on the snow covered the trees and shrubs along Godfrey Lake creating a peaceful backdrop for a winter walk.

Recapping the record

35 YEARS AGO
Commercial fisherman from Point Pleasant Beach pulled a stone sculpture of a lion weighing over a ton from the ocean Monday morning. Captain Randy Gant of the Terri-Sue said that his crew was fishing for whiting about eight miles east of Manasquan when they pulled up the statue in their nets. "We didn't know what it was until we cleaned it up," he said. The statue was in nearly perfect condition except for a few barnacles, Gant said. He added that he did not know its origin, although it looks like the kind often found guarding library steps. Alexandra Hahn, of the the Fisherman's Dock Cooperative, Point Pleasant Beach, described the lion as being in a sitting position with the date 1868 on its belly.

10 YEARS AGO
Jim Donohue, Steve Hernadez and Alan Wagner, all residents of Lavallette, have found common ground on the barrier island in their love of barbershop music. The trio of warblers, along with several dozen other men of all ages, are part of a barbershop group called the Oceanaries, based out of Toms River.

FIVE YEARS AGO
After a quarter century at Jenkinson's Aquarium, Sequin, the beloved Pacific harbor seal, passed away Wednesday morning, succumbing to cancer. "The best part of my day was being able to go in and get a kiss or give her a kiss or give her some food," said Cindy Claus, director at the aquarium. "She would turn her head and acknowledge you. It really was the best part of my day." Born on March 26, 1991 at Marine World Africa in Vallejo, California, Seaquin was transferred to the newly opened Jenkinson's Aquarium in 1992 as a companion for Luseal, another Pacific harbor seal who can still be seen at Jenkinson's.

ONE YEAR AGO
Point Pleasant Fire Department Station 75 has launched a fundraising effort to support a restoration project it began in 2020 in honor of its centennial anniversary. In February, Station 75 announced the acquisition of a special piece of the department and community's history, a 1950 Mack 65-foot aerial ladder truck that served the community for over two decades, having not only belonged to Point Pleasant Fire Co. No. 1, but also to Point Pleasant Fire Co. No. 2, when it was its own entity.

OBSERVATIONS OF ADAM YANKEE

Tomorrow is the busiest day of the year.

TEAMING UP TO KNOCK OUT OPIOID ABUSE
The Ocean County Prosecutor's Office is helping to raise awareness of the dangers associated with prescription opioids by teaming up with local businesses to distribute life-saving information to their customers in recognition of the Partnership for a Drug-Free New Jersey's [PDFNJ] Knock Out Opioid Abuse Day.

Knock Out Opioid Abuse Day, held on Oct. 6, is designated by Gov. Phil Murphy as a permanent day of prevention, education and awareness of the opioid epidemic. Each year, this statewide initiative mobilizes the prevention and treatment communities, community leaders and concerned citizens to raise awareness of the potential for dependence on prescribed pain medicine and its link to heroin and fentanyl use, as well as reduce the stigma associated with addiction.

This year, Ocean County Prosecutor, Bradley D. Billhimer, collaborated with businesses throughout Ocean County to distribute door hangers containing vital information about the risks associated with prescription opioids. Starting on Knock Out Day and continuing into 2022, the businesses affixed the door-hangers to their shopping bags, pizza boxes, menus and dry-cleaning hangers in efforts to share information with their customers.

"We are so grateful for the support from the Ocean County Prosecutor's Office and these businesses," said Angelo Valente, Executive Director of PDFNJ. "Business owners and customers have been extremely receptive and grateful to have this vital information, some even sharing personal stories of addition and how having this information has helped them and their family members."

In 2020, more than 3,000 people in New Jersey died of drug overdoses, a majority of which involved some form of opioid. In Ocean County, from January through October 2021, there have been 750 naloxone administrations to reverse opioid overdoses and 209 suspected overdose deaths. Preliminary data show that New Jersey was on pace to end 2021 with more than 3,200 overdose deaths, which would be the most since the state started keeping track in 2012.

"This collaboration to raise awareness for Knock Out Opioid Abuse Day is a great example that other counties throughout New Jersey can use as a model to educate residents about the dangers of opioids," said Valente.

NJEA SUPPORTS CONTINUING MASK MANDATE
Gov. Phil Murphy has announced that the statewide masking mandate for public schools will remain in place "for the foreseeable future."

Everyone is pleased that Gov. Murphy has committed to this common-sense step to keep public school students and staff safer during this current COVID surge.

Everyone is eager for the day that masks and other COVID safety measures are no longer necessary and the best way to achieve that is for New Jersey to continue following all of the school safety measures currently recommended for schools, including masking, social distancing and vaccination for all who are eligible.

NJEA will continue to advocate for the measures that are necessary to keep students safe, healthy and learning and that put our state in the best position to finally emerge from this pandemic. We are proud to work with a governor who shares our commitment to protecting our students and providing the safest possible learning environment for them at this challenging time.

BROOKDALE PROGRAM GRADUATES 67 NEW NURSES IN TIME OF NEED

On Dec. 20, 67 nursing students completed their Associate Degree in Applied Science and received their pins at the nursing pinning ceremony in the new year.

The nursing program at Brookdale Community College is one of the only nine programs in the United States to have its roots in the Cooperative Research Project of Columbia University, which originated the concept of placing nursing education in the community college setting in 1952. The Brookdale nursing program has been accredited since 1979. In addition, since 2009, it has twice been named a "Center of Excellence" by the National League for Nursing, in the category, Creating an Environment that Promotes Pedagogical Excellence.

"The nursing program is the most rigorous program that we offer here at Brookdale Community College," said President David Stout, addressing the graduates. "You dove into the middle of one of the scariest times and the most dangerous times that we have all encountered and you decided you wanted to be on the front lines. Thank you for being there to heal us, bring our children into the world, to hold our hands when we finally say goodbye, and for helping to heal our damaged bodies and our broken hearts. Thank you for dedicating your life to making sure all of us live healthier and happier lives."

The fall class of 2021 graduates are entering the health care profession of nursing at the most challenging moment of our history. They had to overcome the challenges of their education during a pandemic to achieve their dreams and goals. The nursing pinning ceremony celebrates and honors the graduates on completing their studies and starting their professional careers. However, it is also an opportunity to express pride and appreciation for the faculty members and staff who worked tirelessly to ensure the best possible education and who showed a commitment to excellence that had no bounds.

"It is a great privilege to share this tradition of marking your transition from nursing student to a member of the profession," said Dr. Jayne Edman, dean of the Health Science Institute. "You showed passion, and a willingness to take risks to help others. You demonstrated remarkable adaptability, grace, determination, and resilience. You gained the skills and knowledge to step into a healthcare environment that needs you now more than ever."

Instructor of Nursing Tara Rostrom-Lorenz, MSN, RN, served as the guest speaker. She spoke about great perseverance, compassion, and inspiration. To the audience of family and friends, she remarked, "The graduates have worked diligently and have earned their honorable nursing pin, they have demonstrated clinical judgement, advocacy, academic excellence, critical thinking, perseverance, grit and of course compassion." To the graduates, she said "You will change lives, and you will impact people every single day in their most vulnerable time, and you will persevere. You are ready!"

Shante Bracy, one of the nursing graduates, was the farewell speaker. To all the clinical instructors, she said, "Thank you for going above and beyond to advocate for us to have the best clinical experience." To her fellow nursing graduates, she said, "Remember you are resilient. It took strength and a lot of flexibility to persevere through this program during uncertain times. You are qualified, you belong and you are more than enough. Take heart wherever you go, because truly, nursing is a work of art."

Kathryn Kinsley

Kathryn Kinsley, age 82, of Point Pleasant, passed away suddenly on December 29 at the home she loved, with family by her side.

Born and raised in Neptune, NJ, "Grand mom" was a friend to everyone she met. As a teenager she worked at Jays Candies, her father's candy shop in Asbury Park Convention Hall, where she offered taffy to customers with a smile and "Saltwater taffy, fresh from the sea, if you want sweet kisses, come over to me." Trained as a beautician, she made many friends at The Beauty Spot in Manasquan. She and her husband Dave moved to Point Pleasant where she raised her family near the beaches she loved. She was a kind and giving person who was a fixture in the lives of her grandchildren. Always ready to help with errands, trips to the bus stop, doctor visits, school events and wherever she was needed. Her birthday dinners were joyous family celebrations. She enjoyed gardening, walks to the beach, bee keeping, trips to her Virginia farm, quilting, sitting on the beach with a good book, and most of all, her family. She was loved by many and will be sorely missed.

Surviving are her two children, David and his wife Annette of Point Pleasant, Dawn, and her husband Eric of Point Pleasant; and her grandchildren, David, Tristan, Jessica, Connor, and Kate.

A celebration of her life is being planned for summer in her gardens that she loved so much.

Jane M. Statesir

Jane Murray Statesir (Abbott), our beloved Grammy, Mother, and Wife, passed away on January 7th, 2022 surrounded with love from her family. She is survived by her husband Robert (George) Statesir; her four children Dorothy (Shawn) Scott, James (Michelle) Abbott Jr., Phillip (Michele) Abbott, Ernest (Karla) E Abbott; her grandchildren, James, Nicholas, Drew, Austin, Zackary, Taylor, Jake, Kyle, Morgan, Andrea, Jordyn, Alex; her great granddaughter, Emma; her daughter-in-law Lorrie, and her cat, Leo. Jane also leaves behind her brother, Joseph L. Murray and his wife Joan, Michael Abbott and numerous nephews, nieces, and extended family. She was a fighter her whole life.

Jane loved her pets and all animals. Many would joke that in their next life they wanted to come back as one of her animals because they were so spoiled. Jane was the Stain-master if you stained your clothes. She loved all things grandchildren and strived to make all their dreams and wishes come true. Her faith in God was unwavering, she was a Eucharistic minister and loved serving the church and helping others. Jane bowled in the early bird league at 35 Lanes for nearly 50 years and she looked forward to every single week. She would summon her grandchildren on weekends to go bowling and if one or all showed up, she would beam with pride. Jane loved to travel and explore new places and countries. Jane leaves behind lifelong friends Lynn and Patti and countless others. Our mother loved to celebrate every holiday with extensive displays covering every part of her home. Christmas Eves were epic, with fondue pots overflowing and stockings stuffed to the hilt for everyone she loved. She never forgot a birthday or anniversary and never missed a chance to thank those that helped her with a kind letter or card. Her generosity knew no bounds. Her home was always spotless and inviting. She loved Elvis Presley and America and was a true Patriot! She loved to hug and she would never social distance! Jane taught us all how to live, love, and be better people. She was simply the best! In lieu of flowers please make a donation to the Jersey Shore Animal Center. CHOOSING THE RIGHT FUNERAL DATE

Planning a funeral can be a complicated task even when setting aside the emotional aspects of the process. Ideally, you will want to choose a date and time when the largest number of friends and family can attend, but there are many other things to consider as well. Even if you do not have specific religious or cultural reasons for having the service as soon as possible, there are advantages to doing so. It helps to start the grieving process while surrounded by people you love and it can help bring a feeling of closure more quickly. But waiting may be the right choice if the family is spread out geographically, since making travel plans can take time.

A funeral can and should be as unique as the life that is being celebrated. We want to help you make the arrangements that you want. Personalizing a funeral or memorial service can be very therapeutic—it gives you and your family something to concentrate on as you relive memories. To meet the unique needs and budgets of every family we serve, O'Brien Funeral Home offers a diverse range of funeral services and products. Together we will work alongside you to plan a meaningful funeral service that pays tribute to your loved one.

By JOHN CALLINAN

I have been assisting clients with applying for Medicaid benefits for over twenty years. In that time, I have helped hundreds (probably thousands) of clients successfully apply for Medicaid benefits.

Medicaid is a health payment plan for needy individuals. If a person qualifies for Medicaid benefits, Medicaid will pay for most of the costs associated with long-term care. For instance, if Mrs. Smith is in a nursing home, the Medicaid program will pay for the nursing home; Mrs. Smith will only need to make a small income contribution to the nursing home each month. Since a nursing home can cost upwards of $14,000 a month and since a person can need long-term care for years, Medicaid can confer a very large benefit on its recipients.

When it comes to Medicaid, there are very common misconceptions. I get the same questions from clients, again and again. My greatest concern with these misconceptions isn't the fact that I have to answer the same question, repeatedly; my greatest concern is that my clients get bogged down in these misconceptions and the explanation of why they are misconceptions. The problem with misconceptions is that for some reason people cling to them and are skeptical of explanations that contradict the misconception.

Here are few examples of common misconceptions.

"Can I sell my house to my children for a dollar? My neighbor did this." When a person gives her house to her children, the deed often says that the transfer involved consideration of $1. Consideration is needed to support a contract. Consideration is something for something, quid pro quo. I give you my house, you give me $1; therefore, there is consideration to support the transfer of the house from mom to her children.

Let's assume that mom's house is worth $300,000. "Selling" her house for $1 isn't really a sale. Your mom wouldn't sell her $300,000 to a stranger for $1. The very fact that the client is asking me if she can "sell" her house for $1 tells me that the client knows she isn't selling her house at all but giving it away.

If mom sells her $300,000 house for $1, she has made a $299,999 gift and a $1 sale. Since the children never actually gave mom the $1, mom actually made a $300,000 gift. Calling it a sale doesn't make it a sale. The Internal Revenue Service often uses a concept called "form over substance." That rule applies here. You look at the substance of the transaction, not the form. Mom gave her house away (that's the substance of the transaction); she didn't sell it (the form of the transaction).

This same rule applies with any asset you can think of. "Can I sell my $30,000 for $5,000 to my son?" This would be a $25,000 gift and a $5,000 sale, assuming mom actually gets the $5,000.

Second misconception: "I'm joint on a bank account with my mother, so that account is half mine, right?" The account belongs to the mother and the child according to their contributions to the account. If mom put all the money in the account, then all the money is hers. If the son put some money in the account and if he can prove those contributions, then that portion of money he put into the account and that he can prove he put into the account belongs to him.

Third misconception: "Most of my parents' money is in my mom's name and dad's the one who needs care, so my mom gets to keep all the money in her name right?" When dealing with a married couple, the spouse who does not need long term care can retain a certain amount of cash assets, up to a maximum of about $130,000. It's wholly irrelevant which spouse has title to the assets. The couple is one economic unit for purposes of Medicaid and the healthy spouse can only retain a maximum of $130,000.

Richard Lee Polunas

Richard L. Polunas, 66, of Brick, New Jersey passed away while jogging along Princeton Avenue on January 4, 2022. Rich was born in Plainfield, New Jersey and has lived at the Jersey Shore since 1985, with his wife, Patricia. Rich graduated from Plainfield High School and attended Rutgers University. He formerly lived in Wall Township with his wife Trish of 37 years. Rich was a member of the choir at Harvey Memorial Church, Pt. Pleasant and St. Andrews United Methodist Church Choir, Spring Lake.

Battalion Chief Richard Polunas was a member of the City of Plainfield Fire Department for 27 years, serving as Lieutenant, Captain, and Battalion Chief. As Captain, Rich Polunas received the NJ FMBA Award of Valor for saving the life of a brother firefighter. He was faithful in his duties, respected and admired by those who worked with him at the Fire Department.

After retirement, Rich and Trish traveled to Europe and then moved out of state for a few years, but they came back to the Jersey Shore to be with family and “smell the ocean.” (Rich’s words.) Rich enjoyed watching the waves at Bay Head and Spring Lake beaches, jogging, exercising, reading mystery novels and history biographies, especially about Winston Churchill, whom he admired. Rich loved oldies music, the Beatles, and realistically impersonated Elvis Presley at many events for fun. He loved coffee, “Morning Joe” on television, and playing ball with his rescue terrier, Joe Bravo. Rich enjoyed boating on the Metedeconk River in Brick, at Smith Mountain Lake in Virginia, and at Lake Nockamixon in Bucks County. A favorite pastime in nice weather was “cruising in the convertible.” Rich worked at the Hawkswood School in Eatontown, New Jersey for the last eight years and was loved by the staff and the students who called him Mr. Rich.

Rich is survived by his wife Patricia of 37 years, daughters Marjorie L. Polunas-Tafel and husband Derek Tafel; Judy C. Hawkins-Bono and husband Trevor Bono; and son Jonathan M. Prytherch and wife Kimberly Remig-Prytherch. He leaves behind his sister, Janet Martin and husband Rich Martin, and three brothers: David Polunas and wife Judy, Robert Polunas and wife Maureen, John Polunas and fiancée Pam Pertgen, as well as his sister-in-law and brother-in-law, Marie and Joseph Modena. Rich is blessed with four grown grandchildren, Gina Hawkins

Rhodes and husband Patrick Rhodes, Julia Hawkins, Morgan Prytherch Puliafico and husband Joe Puliafico, and Jon Prytherch, as well as two great-grandchildren, Anthony and Josephine Rhodes, many loved nieces, nephews, dear family, friends, and coworkers. Rich was always there to help anyone who needed his strength, height, wisdom, or his often true but quirky sense of humor. Richard Polunas will be greatly missed and loved by all who knew him.

The Polunas family is grateful to the kind residents and passersby who assisted him along Princeton Avenue, and the Brick EMS and Police Department and Hospital staff for their help.

Visitation was to be held on Wednesday, January 12, with Plainfield Fire Department Honor Guard Ceremony at Orender Family Home for Funerals, 2643 Old Bridge Rd, Manasquan, NJ 08736 (732) 528-5500. Prayer service was to be held Thursday, January 13, at the funeral home, with burial to follow at Greenwood Cemetery, 707 Schoolhouse Rd, Brielle, NJ. A Celebration of Life will be held late Spring 2022.

In lieu of flowers, donations may be made in his name and memory to St. Jude Children’s Research Hospital: 501 St. Jude Place, Memphis, TN 38105 or donate here. Donations may also be made in his name to Angels of Animals, Inc.: PO Box 534 Clifton, NJ 07012.

A MORTGAGE IN YOUR 50S

People in their 50s may wonder if it's too late in life for them to purchase a home. There are some factors to bear in mind for those interested in homeownership at this stage of life. Consider the size of home you will need, particularly if your children have already left or plan to leave soon. How often guests will be visiting is another factor to consider. Also, think about the mortgage length and whether a 30-year mortgage may be too long, particularly if you're working and want to pay it off while still doing so. Consider your health and your family members', since some of your savings may need to be allotted for medical expenses.

Our mission at COLDWELL BANKER

RIVIERA REALTY, INC is to be the leading real estate firm in Ocean County and Monmouth County by providing the best possible service to our clients and customers. We've done it for hundreds of happy homeowners, let us do it for you, too.

P.S. 15-year mortgages require higher monthly payments.

POINT BORO 55 | BOYS BASKETBALL | OCEAN TOWNSHIP 30

Panthers use lockdown defense to dispatch Ocean

BY ADAM YOUNG
THE OCEAN STAR

POINT BORO — Football season might be over, but the Point Boro boys basketball team kept the “pick-six” play alive on Monday afternoon.

The Panthers used an incredibly stingy defensive effort to stymie Ocean Township 55-30 to improve their record to 6-1 on the season.

And head coach Kevin Hynes loved every second of it.

“Easy baskets win games, and the team that gets more easy baskets usually wins,” he said. “We like to call them pick-sixes. Those are steals for layups. Those are the easy buckets that really help you win games.”

A slow offensive start for Boro could be glossed over thanks to their defense against the Spartans.

The Panthers led just 8-4 after one quarter, but then came the pick-sixes.

Shane Ryan had the first one, stealing a lazy pass and streaking his way down the court for an easy layup to extend the lead to 21-10.

Several more Spartan turnovers helped lead to easy baskets from Colton MacGlashan and Matt Lee.

In the halfcourt, it was Stephen Mellett who helped give Boro a spark.

Mellett drilled back-to-back 3-pointers in a 30-second span, and suddenly the Panthers took a 25-13 lead into the halftime break.

Mellett could feel the momentum starting to shift once the Panther defense got going and his shots started falling.

“Our defense has been key to us winning games,” Mellett noted. “We are 6-1 and the biggest reason is our defense.”

On his hot shooting, Mellett simply smiled.

“I was feeling it today ... once we get going [on offense], we are hard to stop.”

The defense continued in the second half, as the Panthers allowed only seven points from the Spartans in the third quarter.

Meanwhile, Lee’s jumper started falling, and MacGlashan continued his dominance in the post against an undersized Ocean squad.

A 41-20 lead heading into the fourth quarter quickly became a laugher, and Hynes was able to empty his bench for the majority of the final period.

“Defense travels,” Hynes reiterated. “Defense wins games, and if we can defend like that it will keep us in the game even against good teams. These guys want to get after it. We try to implement that every day. Be aggressive, play hard and make them earn it.”

Mellett led the team on Monday with 13 points, and he credited the crowd for coming out and supporting the team. He even appeared to have his own cheering section, with the volume in the gym notably louder on his 3-point makes.

“It’s nice, we are a small town with everybody cheering for everyone and everyone going to all the sporting events. All the Point Boro sports have been really successful lately and the whole environment with the town supporting everyone is great.”

MacGlashan added 12 points in the victory, while Lee had 11 and Ryan seven.

Hynes liked the balanced effort and thinks it will make the team tougher to scout moving forward.

“It’s funny I told [my assistants] after the game that if we score like this, we will be tough to guard. This group really likes each other, they hang out off the court and I really like where we are at.”

Boro carried its 6-1 record into a road matchup against Jackson Liberty on Thursday. That game ran past The Ocean Star deadline and will be in the next issue.

The team will host St. Rose on Saturday.

BY ADAM YOUNG
THE OCEAN STAR

BRICK — The Brick Memorial girls bowling team competed in the Brick Tournament on Saturday at Ocean Lanes and took first place as a team with a total of 2,910 pins.

Emily Hehir had the second-highest series of anyone on Saturday with a 628. Olivia Salvatore had the third-highest series with a 603.

Leah Varela was seventh with a 581 and Mikalah Carter ninth with a 575.

The girls improved to a perfect 10-0 on the season with a 3-0 sweep of the Mariners on Monday afternoon. Scores were not available at the time of The Ocean Star deadline.

The Brick Memorial boys bowling team also competed in the Brick Tournament on Saturday at Ocean Lanes.

The team took seventh overall with a total of 2,814 pins.

Justin Tilton had the highest series for the team with a 619.

The Mustang boys snuck past Toms River North 2-1 on Monday afternoon.

Bobby Meissner put together a 682 series to lead the team, while Eric Lazarchik added a 594, Zach Lewis a 576 and Justin Tilton a 512. Meissner’s 255 was the high score of the day.

Both teams will travel to Central Regional this afternoon.

BOYS BASKETBALL

Memorial slipped past Jackson Memorial 49-48 in a key A South division matchup on Saturday.

Brian Starrett had ice water in his veins late, making 2-of-3 free throws with just 11 seconds left to give the Mustangs the one-point victory.

Starrett finished the game with six points, four rebounds, five assists and three steals.

The junior stayed calm despite being the difference between a win and loss for the Mustangs on the road.

“My mindset when I went to the line was to finish the game and go home happy,” Starrett said. “I was iced between the second and third free throws. I overthought the second shot and got to regroup during the timeout. I cleared my thoughts and cancelled out the noise, knocking it down for the team.”

Starrett enjoyed seeing his team tested in a crucial A South division game early in the season.

“To steal the division game this early is huge because it sets our pace for the season, catapulting our confidence as a family and team. It’s great to play in high-pressure games because it shows how we run as a family. Executing in these types of games will bring us a long way into the season.”

Josh Michigan continued to light up the scoreboard, this time scoring a game-high 23 points, while Luke Braaten chipped in with a 13-point, 17-rebound double-double. Braaten also had four blocks and two steals in the thrilling win against the Jaguars.

The Mustangs blew away Barnegat 76-31 on Tuesday night. Dorian Alston had a team-high 15 points, while Braaten had 12 and Jason Ellerbrock 11 in the victory.

Memorial played Toms River North in another A South division game on Thursday. That game ran past The Ocean Star deadline and will be in the next issue.

The team travels to Central Regional on Saturday.

GIRLS BASKETBALL

The Mustangs slipped past Point Boro 54-49 on Saturday for the team’s first win of the season.

Summer Castiglione was huge for the home team, scoring a team-high 19 points, with 14 of them coming at the free throw line. She also had four rebounds and four assists on the afternoon.

Melanie Hiotis added a 10-point, 11-rebound double-double, while Abby Fuchs also contributed 11 points and six rebounds.

THIS WEEK IN SPORTS BY ADAM YOUNG

Top milestones in high school sports

This past week, the Point Boro wrestling team reached multiple milestones. Head coach Pat Brady earned his 200th career victory, while the program itself reached 700 wins this Saturday. It got me thinking about milestones at the high school level. There's nothing like high school sports. As a former athlete myself, I can tell you that nothing is more memorable than your high school years. The thrilling victories and crippling losses stick with you forever. I'm still haunted by back-to-back losses in the sectional championship my junior and senior years on the baseball diamond. OK, haunted may be a strong word. But it still hurts. You know why? Adding a year to the state championship banner at your high school is a legendary accomplishment. Seeing that year under the "State Champions" section is something no one can ever take away from you. One of my HS coaches told us that a state champion's ghost will walk through the hallways forever, even long after they graduate. I always thought that was a cool statement. In addition to team accomplishments, there are individual accomplishments that get posted on the school banners. Or end up in the school's trophy cases. Which milestones are the best? The toughest to reach? The most underrated? Let's find out. Toughest: I always thought 100 goals in soccer was an incredibly difficult milestone for a high school athlete. Assuming a team plays roughly 20 games on average, a player who starts as a freshman and plays all four years would play about 80 games. To reach 100 goals, you'd need to score 1.25 goals per game throughout your entire career. Goals are scarce enough in soccer, making this the toughest milestone to reach. Underrated: 100 hits in baseball is a milestone I rarely see in high school gyms. I believe Red Bank Regional was the first school I ever saw with a 100-hit banner for high school baseball players. Using the same math as above, you'd need 1.25 hits per game over a four-year career to reach this milestone. On rare occasions, a three-year starter could eclipse 100 hits. But that would require close to two hits per game. My favorite: I really enjoy the 100 wins mark for high school wrestlers. It's not as difficult to reach as 100 goals in soccer, but wrestling is such a grueling sport. No other sport requires you to constantly make weight. No sport, other than perhaps football, is as physically demanding. Staying healthy is also crucial for wrestlers to reach the 100-win milestone. An honorable mention here is 1,000 points in basketball. The reason I didn't include it above is there are extraneous factors that could make it easier to reach. Some teams run their offense through one player and one player alone. Basketball has only five players on the court at one time, making it the easiest to dominate on an individual level. Soccer has 11 players on the field, and baseball you have a finite number of at-bats based on factors outside your control. Still, I enjoy going through the years and glancing at each high school's 1,000-point scorers. Some even have 2,000-point scorers! Milestones are what make high school sports special. Congrats to head coach Pat Brady and the Point Boro wrestling team for reaching your milestones. I hope to see many more milestones here during my time at The Ocean Star.

The Brick Schools ice hockey team celebrates a goal during Friday's 4-1 win over Central Regional.

BY ADAM YOUNG
THE OCEAN STAR

BRICK — The Brick Schools ice hockey team stayed scorching hot with a 4-1 victory over Central Regional on Friday. Jake Toye was a monster against the Golden Eagles, netting a hat trick with two first-period goals and the dagger early in the third period that helped the Dragons pull away 3-1 and close out their opponent. Ty Nicol also added a late goal in the third period off assists from Daniel Aulisi and Thomas Johnston. Aiden Rozell set the table for Brick on Friday with a game-high three assists, while Mike Pfeister also chipped in with an assist in the win. # Toye's monster night leads Brick ice hockey

There's nothing more fulfilling for a hockey player than a hat trick. That's exactly what Jake Toye accomplished on Friday night in the Brick Schools' 4-1 win over Central Regional on the ice. Toye didn't waste any time against the Golden Eagles, scoring a pair of goals in the first period. The first came off an assist from Aiden Rozell, while the second goal came less than a minute later off dimes from Rozell and Mike Pfeister. Central got a goal back in the second period to cut the deficit to 2-1, and halfway through the third period it looked like the Golden Eagles may have had one last push to tie the game. Toye immediately put a stop to that and iced the game with a goal off a nice pass from Daniel Aulisi. That was the hat trick, and the Dragons eventually made it a laughter when Ty Nicol scored to put the game away at 4-1. Toye leads the team through eight games with 11 goals and a team-high 16 points. It was the sophomore's first hat trick of the season, though he also has a pair of games with two goals. Toye and the rest of the Brick ice hockey team will be back in action tonight in a marquee contest against Rumson-Fair Haven.

Boro wrestling handles Toms River North on the mat

BY ADAM YOUNG
THE OCEAN STAR

POINT BORO — It's not always how you start, it's how you finish. It's a sports cliché that's been used for decades.

The Point Boro wrestling team didn't mind doing both on Tuesday night against Toms River North.

The Panthers started hot and also ended the match with a bang, taking down the Mariners 51-24 to improve their record to 6-0.

Joey DeAngelo set the tone for Boro with a 35-second pin of North's Luke Meehan that got the crowd energized.

And the young guys down low were just getting started.

Jared Drewes followed up with a 55-second pin at 113 pounds, and Frankie Burgio capped off three straight pins for the Panthers at 120.

"Toms River North is a great program," he said. "We came in and our kids did what they do in practice and what they are trained to do. Our three guys down low getting a pin, pin, pin was an impressive start."

Things went downhill briefly for the Panthers, however, in the middle of the match.

The Mariners put together back-to-back pins at 126 and 132 before a serious arm injury forced Boro's Nate Fletcher to forfeit his match at 138.

Suddenly the score was tied 18-18.

The break in the action following Fletcher's injury didn't faze Boro.

In fact, the team appeared to rally around it, hoping to win the match in their teammate's honor.

North's best wrestler, Jake Rosenthal won by decision at 144 to give the Mariners a brief 21-18 lead. But six of the final seven bouts went in favor of the Panthers, helping them clinch a dominant victory.

Jack Thompson [150] and Jacob Messano [157] earned forfeit wins for Boro, before a North win at 165 cut the visitor's deficit to 30-24.

Sean Ennas won a hard-fought 6-3 decision at 175 to push the lead to 33-24 before Brett Leschinski won by fall at 190 and Justin Krosnicki by forfeit at 215 to make it 45-24 Panthers.

Then came the fireworks at heavyweight.

Luke Wilson capped off a feel-good win with a 10-second pin of North's Logan Perez to end it 51-24.

"We started with the young guns down low and ended it with the senior heavyweight Luke Wilson at the top," Brady said. "That was nice."

It's been a great start to the season for Boro despite a ton of young wrestlers in the lineup. Brady views that as a positive and hopes to see his team continue to grow as the season progresses.

"It's nice for the kids, they are training hard and believing in what we are teaching them. That's showing early. We are a dangerous team because we are young but we are only getting better."

The team kept it rolling on Wednesday with a victory over Lakewood and will take the mat again tonight at home against a very talented Colts Neck team.

If you missed what I wrote last week here it is again as I think it is worth repeating. The 2021 season will go down in the record books as a banner season for our central NJ area. It started in April and May with a tremendous striped bass run in Raritan Bay and never let up from there. In fact, on New Year's Eve Dec. 31, I was out with Capt Dave Shunke along the oceanfront and we had all the bass you wanted casting topwater plugs and jigs. The bass ranged in size from 24 inches up to 36 inches. The amount of striped bass we saw this fall is mind boggling to me as acres of bass were present everyday migrating south. In November, thousands of bass were outside the three line and were seen each day by boaters that were looking for bluefin tuna or by those that were targeting them illegally. In December, sandeels moved inside the three mile line and then Atlantic sea herring showed up. Combine this with many springlike days and an ocean temperature at 48 degrees and you had the making of a December to remember. If I had to estimate the number of bass present in the last two weeks between Sandy Hook and Island Beach State Park, I would easily guess well over several million.

The bluefin and yellowfin fishery was also epic this year as giants showed up first within 5 miles of the beach in May. Many were caught by boaters that were live lining bunker. This was followed by a 40-80 pound class of bluefin 15-30 miles off the beach into July. By the middle of July yellowfin tuna appeared from 15-50 miles out and stayed until mid-October. Yellowfin up to 100 pounds were present. Mahi were also present in good numbers from late July into September. Fluke fishing was good as was blackfish and sea bass. Overall, I can say in good conscious that our central NJ area has a world class saltwater fishery when we look at our season from April to Dec.

BRICK HIGH SCHOOL SWIMMING

Brick fall short to tough Bengals squad

BY JIMMY DEROGATIS
THE OCEAN STAR

LONG BEACH ISLAND — The Brick girls swim team competed in a high-intensity competition against Barnegat at the St. Francis pool in LBI on Tuesday, but came up short by the final score of 89-77.

The pool house was jam-packed with parents and spectators from both school districts who were eager to get up close and personal with the student-athletes in the water.

The Bengals had the Dragons' number all night long, especially as the meet neared its conclusion. The defeat dropped Brick Township girls' overall record to 0-5-1 on the season.

Brick got out to a fast start, winning the opening race, the 200 medley relay, by a time of 2:20.19 by Dragon swimmers Brylin Greenberger, Emily Dolan, Amanda Mology and Kaitlyn Goldsmith. That foursome started out with the hot hand on the evening's events, but the team faltered a little bit from then on.

Mology, a senior breakout star swimmer, took first place in the 200 IM with a time of 2:34.54. Mology also won the 100 butterfly with a time of 1:09.97.

Greenberger, another bright feature for this relatively young Dragons' swim squad, won gold for Brick in the 500 freestyle with a time of 6:43.09. Greenberger also won first place in the 100 backstroke, clocking a time of 1:17:54.

"We were missing a couple girls tonight because we had the field hockey banquet," said Brick Head Coach Lauren Ianniello. "But, you know, we could've done a little bit better.

"But I'm proud of the girls. They did their best with who we have and where we are. We've been off because of the snow and for the winter break, so that's been a little rough.

"What we were looking for tonight is some close times. We wanted to push them to get ready for county, and Shore Conference, so I'm pleased. They did their best with the training that we put in and hopefully we will just keep getting better for the next two and a half weeks..

Ianniello also said she was focusing on "some big meets" to follow.

"Our senior meet is our Brick vs. Brick Memorial meet, so that's definitely our biggest meet of the season. And we have Southern on Friday, and then we have Central that last week before the Shore Conference finals." Despite a disappointing record thus far, Ianniello took note of some standout performances by her girls.

"Amanda Mology, she has just been awesome this season so far, and she's the only girl that made Shore Conference so far. Brylin Greenberger, too, so far has had a great season for us.

"Kaitlyn Goldsmith is another one of my seniors who also has done an outstanding job in literally every event I put her in — like in every different event she always does a great job and is one of our standouts.

"Amanda [Mology], Kaitlyn [Goldsmith] and Courtney [Keizer] are our captains this year, so they're my leaders and we'll look to them to take hold of the team."

The Brick boys team also came up short against the Bengals on Tuesday by the score of 111-56.

Asher Cloupe was first in the 50 freestyle with a time of 23:87, while Richmond Coombs was first in the 100 butterfly in 1:09:92.

John Gardner had a second-place finish in the 200 IM [2:37:53], and the 200 freestyle relay team of Gardner, Brandon Kalp, Thomas D'Elia and Coombs took second in the event with a time of 2:01:21.

The 400 freestyle relay team of Kalp, Thomas George, Myles Laughlin and Cloupe [4:33:93] also grabbed second on Tuesday, while Laughlin, Cloupe, Coombs and Gardner came together to post a second-place finish in the 200 medley relay [2:01:86] for the Dragons.

NEPTUNE — Manasquan-Beach swim coach Craig Murin admitted the Warriors and Wall swim meet on Tuesday at the Neptune Aquatic Center didn't have the usual buzz of the rivalry.

Murin was not about to complain about one of the reasons why.

The Manasquan-Beach girls team was at nearly full strength, while the talented boys squad cruised past a depleted Wall boys team.

The Warrior girls won 124-46, while the co-op boys won 133-28.

Manasquan-Beach had not had a meet in over three weeks, and with the continued uncertainty of another coronavirus-impacted season, Murin was pleased to see his team get in the pool and compete.

The meet marked the first of the season for senior Sarah Eldridge, one of the top swimmers in the state who is heading to the Naval Academy.

Murin enjoyed loading up a couple of his relays to form a true 'A' team on the girls side.

Summer Sakowicz, Sarah Eldridge, Caroline Ireland and Dylann Eldridge started the meet for the Warriors with a win in the 200 medley relay with a time of 1:55.06, defeating the Crimson Knight foursome of Mia Rizzi, Ava Repetti, Meg Lovasz and Nicole Woods.

"I think we pretty much had everybody," said Murin. "This is the most full we have been all year. We tried to load it up a little bit and get some power points."

The time between meets and only a few practices leading up to the meet didn't make for a meet with outstanding times, according to Murin.

"This was our first meet in 25 days," said Murin. "We have only been in the water four days, you could see that a little bit with the times and this is a great pool. We still have some time, keeping our fingers crossed we keep everyone healthy. That will be our biggest challenge the rest of the year."

Murin felt Matt Pasola's effort was the highlight of the boys' meet. Pasola was a winner in the 50 free and 100 fly and a couple of relays.

"Matt Pasola had a great meet," said Murin. "He had a lot of clean water in front of him. He swam real fast. Having all the girls together and having relays that could do some things was great."

Sarah Eldridge won the 200 free in 1:59.42 and Dylan Eldridge won the 200 intermediate in 2:23.83. Sakowicz claimed the 50 free in 26.58.

Sarah Eldridge came back to win the 100 fly in 1:00.6, while Dylan Eldridge claimed the 100 free in 59.99.

Kylie Spalt was a winner for the Warriors in the 500 free in 5:31.92. The foursome of Dylan Eldridge, Gracey Tolomanosi, Ryan McLaughlin and Sarah Eldridge won the 200 free relay in 1:51.86.

Ireland was a winner in the 100 back in 1:01.21, while Sakowicz won the 100 breast for Manasquan-Beach in 1:13.38.

The foursome of Nasia Polizos, McLaughlin, Spalt and Ireland finished off the meet for Manasquan-Beach in a win in the 400 free relay in 4:03.48.

The Warrior boys' foursome of James Hackett, Liam Preyer, Matt Pasola and Christian Wall started the meet with a win in the 200 intermediate relay in 1:52.01

Matt Dettlinger won the 200 free for co-op in 1:56.40. Hackett was a winner for the Warriors in the 200 intermediate medley in 2:15.5.
